

THE HAWAIIAN BAND CAPTIVATES CANADIANS

For the first time that the Royal Hawaiian Band ever invaded English soil its reception was, to say the least, noteworthy. The band made a hit at Vancouver, and not the least of the band's success was the singing of Miss Lei Lehua. This young lady is making a reputation, although it is her first appearance on the stage. The Vancouver News-Advertiser of June 15 has the following:

The Royal Hawaiian Band is undoubtedly a great musical organization, as it comprises not only a full military band, but also a glee club, mandolin and guitar clubs, to say nothing of soloists.

The band compares favorably with any that have ever visited the city, and in a building like the Opera House a band cannot be heard to advantage. Features of both the matinee and evening performances yesterday were the solos by Miss Lei Lehua, who contributed some native solos arranged by Mr. Berger. The native music is most catchy and melodious, and Miss Lehua possesses a strong voice, well under control.

The choruses by the members of the band were most effective. The numbers by the Glee Club, too, were also special features of the lengthy program.

As regards the band itself, it showed that it was equally at home at any class of music—from classical to rag-time—and all were equally well rendered.

The band played in the evening to standing-room only, to an enthusiastic audience, every piece being loudly applauded. The program was of such a nature that everybody with or without knowledge of music could enjoy it, and it was well rendered.

Miss Lei Lehua has a splendid enunciation, and if the Hawaiian tongue had been familiar to her audience, every word could have been followed. As it was, she was twice called back. The Royal Hawaiian Glee Club, however, was the star number on the program, assisted by Mr. John S. Ellis and another gentleman, whose name was not given, was enjoyed immensely. Another member of the Glee Club, distinguished only by the green wreath he wore, gave what appeared to be a plantation song, that brought the house down. The choruses were very tuneful, and the Royal Hawaiian Band will be assured of another full house next time they visit Vancouver. The program might have stated what the performance was, and it might also have given more than two of the names of the soloists. The name of the gentleman who conducted, and conducted well, also was omitted.

The Seattle Daily Times of June 11 also has the following send-off:

At the Seattle last night before a large and appreciative audience a new band was introduced to local music-lovers—the Royal Hawaiian organization from Honolulu. Seattle's visiting band talent of recent years has largely been of the Italian variety, and these Sandwich Islanders prove a highly acceptable change, proving adequate not only to general military band requirements, but skilled as well in the native island music that possesses an indescribable charm for white folks.

Those who heard the band in Portland last year, or who have in years past heard its concerts in front of the Hawaiian hotel or down at the wharf in Honolulu, will find the organization now better and bigger than ever before. In Honolulu the band used to average about thirty pieces, while here, including the glee club of twenty, the organization numbers sixty. The programs given here are varied and for many people the best liked part of the entertainment will be the native songs by the glee club and by Lei Lehua, the soprano soloist.

Seattle's greatly increasing trade relations with Honolulu has apparently stimulated the friendly feeling which has always existed between the two cities, and the audience last night took occasion to demonstrate this bond of friendship by unusually liberal applause and by closer attention than is generally given a musical program. The band numbers last night were light in character, beginning with a Sousa march and continuing with many popular airs, including "Dixie," which brought the audience to its feet with a yell. A Strauss waltz, "One Thousand and One Nights," was given with feeling, and the overture, "Nakira's Wedding," was the worthiest number on the list.

Miss Lehua has a soprano voice that is almost as altitudinous as that of Yaw, and her voice has both clearness and strength. The glee club has several unusually good voices, and the tenor, John S. Ellis, was recalled again and again. Accompanying the songs is a large orchestra of band men, and they seem as proficient on the stringed instruments as with the wood winds or the brasses.

Tonight the third concert will be given, and tomorrow the last two performances will take place, after which the band will make a short tour of the surrounding cities, where it should be exceedingly well received.

LIGHTHOUSE ITEMS HAVE BOTH PASSED

Washington, June 27, 1906.

To Governor Carter.
Honolulu lighthouse passed House in Deficiency bill. Makapuu Point light already passed.

KALANIANA'OLE.

The foregoing cablegram was handed to the Governor while at dinner yesterday evening. This is good news, for it indicates that the lighthouse items will go through. They are $60,000 for a lighthouse at Makapuu Point on this island, where no light now exists, and $40,000 for Honolulu harbor lights.

Light was first shown in the Honolulu lighthouse on August 2, 1869, or nearly 37 years ago. Since the lighting of the city by electricity in 1888, the light has been too feeble by comparison to be adequate as a mariner's guide. Range lights on buildings have also become unsatisfactory. Under the appropriation and according to Lieut. Slattery's plan the location of the new Honolulu lighthouse will be farther out than that of the old one, upon new land constructed of harbor dredgings.

The House Committee on Commerce reported favorably on these lighthouse items on May 17, together with an item of $150,000 for a lighthouse tender for the Hawaiian Islands. On June 13, however, the conferees of Senate and House struck out the lighthouse tender item.

WANTS NO NEW BOSS

(From Wednesday's Advertiser)

A lively tilt occurred last night between Supervisor Lucas and Chairman Smith of the County Board of Supervisors over a resolution presented by the chairman giving certain powers to the new county engineer. The instant the resolution was read a breezy session took the board out of its usually quiet, dignified rut. Lucas declared that if such a resolution were passed he would resign immediately as a member of the road department committee, of which he is the head. The resolution, which precipitated the trouble, was as follows:

"Resolved, That the engineering work of the Honolulu Road Department, including lines, grades, curbing, sewers, drains, bridges, culverts and macadamized, be, and hereby are, placed under the control and charge of the County Engineer.

(Signed) "GEORGE W. SMITH."

COCK OF THE WALK.

"Mr. Chairman," exclaimed Mr. Lucas, "I will withdraw as a member of the road committee if that resolution passes. I'm pau. You are taking away the authority of the Road Department committee and putting it in the hands of one man. That is a very sweeping resolution."

Chairman Smith said quietly that Mr. Lucas evidently did not quite understand the meaning of the resolution. It was not intended to arrogate any authority now held by the committee.

"If I am to have charge of a department committee I will have charge of it or not at all," Lucas retorted.

"I'm going to be cock of the walk or nothing."

"I don't want to have any man tell me what I shall do or what I shall not do."

Mr. Smith said that action would be deferred for a week to give Mr. Lucas time to study the resolution over.

NAONE SUCCEEDS KEKAUOHA.

An important item of business was the appointment of Mr. L. K. Naone as Deputy Sheriff for Koolauloa, vice Kekauoha, dismissed on impeachment proceedings brought and maintained by the Board. Mr. Naone has been jailed in that section. A petition bearing ninety names of residents was received from Koolauloa to have Mr. Naone appointed.

Supervisor Archer raised a smile when he objected to Naone's commission being signed this month, claiming that if it was, Naone would get the salary for the whole month of June. Although assurance was given Mr. Archer that such would not be the case, yet he persisted in his position, and the commission will therefore be signed as of July 1.

ESTATE WANTS GUTTERS.

A letter was read from the Hawaiian Trust Co., agent for the Chas. Brewer Estate, Ltd., with reference to a proposed guttering of the Waikiki side of Fort street from and above the Boston Building and along the makai side of Hotel to Bishop street, asphalt to be used. Their letter, which was referred to County Engineer Gare, was as follows:

Honolulu, June 26, 1906.

Oahu County Supervisors, Gentlemen: In behalf of the Chas. Brewer Estate, Ltd., for whom we act as agent, which estate owns all of that property beginning with and including the Boston building on Fort street, and from Fort street along Hotel street to and including the Arlington building, we beg to call your attention to the following matter:

Owing to the lack of any drainage system by which the roof water can be carried away, and owing to the fact that we cannot use the sewers for roof water, the rainfall coming from the roofs of all of this property, which includes the Arlington building, Benson, Smith & Co., Thrum, Honolulu Photo-Supply Co., Manufacturers' Shoe Co., J. J. Williams, Whitney & Marsh, H. May & Co. and the Boston building, for years has been carried out into the gutters. The grade of the gutters and the condition of the streets is the means of a good deal of water standing in the street at the time of and after heavy rains, which is certainly not sanitary. In order to have this water promptly carried off and keep the gutters in a dry, clean and sanitary condition, the Brewer Estate makes the following proposition:

To share equally with the County of Oahu the expense of grading and putting in a good, solid and durable asphalt gutter, the work and material to be furnished by the County, and to be started and completed at an early date.

We consider this a benefit to the city and county, as well as the property of the Brewer Estate, as it involves putting the gutters in a good condition, and not any of the property used by the tenants of the Brewer Estate.

STREAKED LAWN WITH LIME.

D. Kallimai, keeper of Anala Park, appeared before the Board with a complaint. Baseball players had strewn lime across the lawn and had ruined such portions of it that had been touched. The Supervisors considered this a grave matter and will order that the baseballers use care in the use of the grounds or they will be refused permission to play there. It was suggested by one of the Supervisors that powdered chalk would answer the purpose. Kallimai said a Chinaman had also complained that baseballs were being thrown against his structure and he asked that a wire netting be set up to stop the balls. The baseball players will be told of this complaint and ordered to desist.

OFFERS TITLE IN FEE.

C. W. Booth offered the title in fee for such portions of his lands as are needed and now staked out for the proposed "Loop Road" around Pauoa Valley. The road is to be macadamized and will be forty feet in width.

A warrant, which Clerk Buffandeau had filed in the amount of the salary per usual payroll, had been returned by County Treasurer Trent, and was ordered back to the treasurer, with the statement that the amount was correct.

The offering of Makiki street was deferred until next month on account of lack of funds.

The crossings over the O. R. & L. Co. tracks are to be attended to.

AFTER BERGER'S JOB.

Mr. Moore, to whom was referred the application of the Portuguese band to play here while the Hawaiian band was absent, said he had forgotten all about the matter.

D. P. Kapaeawa applied for the position of time-keeper in the road department vice Isaacs, whom he said was discharged. The last bit of information was a surprise to Lucas and Moore. Kapaeawa was thought to be laboring under a misapprehension.

AUTOS ON TANTALUS ROAD.

Lucas said he had had several requests to keep automobiles off the Tantalus road. He believed it was within the province of the Superintendent of Public Works to make an order. Women and children driving on that narrow road found that their lives were endangered by autos being allowed over it. Archer did not think anybody was complaining. The matter was referred to the county attorney.

Moore said that the police department should see that police see that autoists observe the rule to blow their horn before rounding street corners. He put his statement in the form of a motion, which passed unanimously.

WANTS HIS HORSE BACK.

Lucas wanted to get permission to dispose of the automobile belonging to the road department because it cost too much to maintain. This is the one used by Road Supervisor Sam Johnson. It is said there are many places the automobile cannot go to where public work is being done, and Johnson wants his horse and buggy back.

Archer suggested that the Koon property at Waikiki beach be sold back to the Territory for $18,000. Nothing done except that Moore said that the county had acquired something not
